“Speed Networking”

Building Block: Something essential for making or developing another thing.
Translation: A mentor.

Elevator Speech: A quick summary used to define a profession and delivered in the time span of an elevator ride — one to two minutes. The term comes from a scenario of an accidental meeting in an elevator with someone important. If this discussion is interesting, it will spark conversation outside the elevator and end in exchange of business cards.

Speed Mentoring 101: The Elevator Speech

Having a mentor is essential to developing your successful legal career — don’t build that career one block at a time, instead take the “elevator” to the penthouse and beyond. In this presentation, through speed networking, mentors will help others perfect their “elevator” speech. Like speed dating, the elevator speech is meant to be a short summary designed to explain and create interest in you and your services within the time it takes to ride an elevator. Come prepared with your draft elevator speech and be ready to ride to the penthouse.

Facilitators:
- Hon. Susan Peikes Gantman, President Judge, Superior Court of PA
- Hon. Sallie Updyke Mundy, Superior Court of PA
- Mary C. Doherty, Esq., High Swartz, LLP

Moderator:
- Sarah C. Yerger, Esq., Post & Schell, P.C.

The Toolkit provides practical information about how to prepare a media release and communicate with the media; a directory with hyperlinks to hundreds of newspapers, television and radio stations in Pennsylvania; helpful information about drafting an op-ed piece and letter to the editor; tips on fielding phone calls from the press and participating in television and radio interviews, as well as opportunities for publicity within the PBA.
