Sapna Anderson is a sixth-year associate in the Litigation Department and member of the Complex Commercial Litigation and White Collar Defense/Investigations Groups. Ms. Anderson's practice has touched upon an array of subject areas, including construction defects, employment discrimination, business and securities fraud, pharmaceutical products liability, environmental and real estate litigation, intellectual property, and other areas of commercial litigation.

Ms. Anderson also maintains an active pro bono practice and was listed on the 2008 Roll of Honor from the First Judicial District of Pennsylvania. Her pro bono work includes a successful asylum case and assisting defense lawyers in the briefing of issues involving international law defenses to the imposition of capital punishment against Guantanamo Bay detainees being tried under the Military Commissions Act.

Ms. Anderson graduated Phi Beta Kappa with a degree in English from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign (B.A., magna cum laude, 1999). She received her law degree from the University of California, Los Angeles (J.D. 2004), where she was an Executive Board member of the Moot Court Honors Program, and the recipient of a foreign affairs internship grant from the University of California's Institute on Global Conflict and Cooperation.

Ms. Anderson has been active with the Minority Bar Committee since 2006. She has served on the Philadelphia Minority Law Day Subcommittee for three years, the last two of which she has served as Co-chair and Chair. In May 2009, the Subcommittee had one of its most successful Minority Law Day events yet, with nearly 200 students in attendance. Ms. Anderson is also on the Executive Board of the South Asian Bar Association of Philadelphia, and has been since 2007.
