

Jacqueline B. Martinez

Jacqueline B. Martinez is the principal owner of JBM Immigration Group, LLC, in Pittsburgh. JBM is a small firm focusing on all aspects of immigration law: family immigration, business immigration, deportations and removal, and federal practice. Jackie is an active member of the Allegheny County Bar Association (ACBA), American Immigration Lawyers Association (AILA), and the PBA. Jackie is currently one of three vice-chairs of the PBA Minority Bar Committee, and a member of the Community Outreach Committee. A frequent speaker and panelist at local, state and national levels, she has been selected as a member of the AILA Annual Conference Planning Committee, focusing on Family Immigration Law-related matters for the past two years. Community activities include membership in the Latino Round Table, Pittsburgh Interfaith Impact Network-Civil Rights Committee, and as board member of CASA of Western PA and the Northland Public Library Foundation. Jackie received her B.S. from Cornell University and J.D. from Arizona State University. This is Jackie's first year as an empty nester and she remains a helicopter mom to her daughters Cailann, a sophomore at the University of the Arts; and Deirdre, a freshman at Ohio University.
