

College-level Mock Trials

For those of you that are looking for some interesting lessons to use with college students, you may want to look at the mock trials developed by Street Law. We have listed a variety of civil and criminal mock trials covering timely and mature topics. Others are available on the Street Law Web site at the address listed below.

Criminal Mock Trials found at http://www.streetlaw.org/en/Page.mocktrials\_criminal.aspx

Chris Archer v. the State of New Columbia

A college student is charged with first degree murder and criminal hazing after a prospective member of his fraternity falls to her death with a blood alcohol level of .10.

State v. David Jones

A college student is charged with felony rape after his girlfriend alleged that he forced her to have sexual intercourse against her will.

United States v. Martha Monroe

A woman admits to shooting and killing her husband and is charged with first degree murder. She asserts that she acted in self-defense after suffering years of severe physical and emotional abuse.

Civil Mock Trials found at http://www.streetlaw.org/en/Page.mocktrials\_civil.aspx

Brooks v. Lawrence & the Metro City Police Department

A 19-year-old high school honors student charged with trespassing and disorderly conduct and brings a civil suit against the police department for battery, false arrest, and intentional infliction of emotional distress.

Kahn v. Kahn

A woman charges her husband with multiple instances of domestic violence.

Kyle Wilkins v. New Columbia County School District

A father sues the New Columbia County School District for damages after his son, a student at the school, dies from a heart attack caused by excessive steroid use.

Sandra W. v. Gregg M.

A woman sues a sexual partner for negligent transmission of HIV.

Scott Walker v. Tanya Brewster

After a five-year-old is severely wounded from a gunshot wound, a mother is sued for negligent storage of a firearm and negligent supervision of the minor child responsible for bringing the gun into the home.