PENNSYLVANIA BAR ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETING

2006

June 7 - 9
Hershey Lodge &
Convention Center

Dear Colleague:

As the chairs of the 2006 Pennsylvania Bar Association Annual Meeting, we invite you to attend this year's meeting, scheduled for June 7 – 9 at The Hershey Lodge and Convention Center in Hershey.

Hersheypark, with its thrilling rides and top-shelf entertainment, will be open for business, so bring the family along for what promises to be one of our best Annual Meetings.

You will not find a better opportunity to network with your colleagues and friends in the legal profession. Wednesday's Pro Bono Conference, Women in the Profession Conference, Real Property Probate & Trust Law Section Spring Meeting, and a multitude of CLE programs will provide practical and informative sessions for lawyers from throughout the state. On Thursday, more than 40 PBA committees and sections will meet, followed by the PBA Annual Dinner, where we will salute outgoing President Bill Carlucci and welcome new President Ken Horoho. Friday's House of Delegates meeting will bring together the PBA's policy-making body to discuss, dissect and decide important issues facing the profession.

You also will not find a better opportunity to hear some of our state and nation's most provocative speakers. Christine Todd Whitman, the first woman governor of New Jersey and the former administrator of the US Environmental Protection Agency, will address the PBA Women in the Profession Conference luncheon on Wednesday. Gubernatorial candidates Gov. Ed Rendell and Lynn Swann have been invited to speak at Thursday's luncheon. On Friday, Pennsylvania Attorney General Tom Corbett will present a CLE program for the PBA House of Delegates on his office's efforts to combat child sexual predators.

A new feature this year is the special "Picnic in Hersheypark with the PBA President and County Bar Presidents," which will be held on Friday afternoon. Picnic attendees will receive Hersheypark tickets at the PBA discounted rates of 45 percent off the price of regular adult admission and 22 percent off the price of junior admission. Hersheypark features 60 rides, including the new Reese's Xtreme Cup Challenge, so bring the whole family for a day of excitement at the park.

Special thanks to USI Colburn Insurance Services, Citizens Bank and Lexis/Nexis for their sponsorship of various activities during the Annual Meeting. Please join us for an exciting meeting featuring excellent networking opportunities, prominent speakers, outstanding CLE programs ... and fun in Hersheypark.

We look forward to seeing you in Hershey!

Sincerely,

Hon. Christopher C. Conner

PRO BONO CONFERENCE

Wednesday, June 7, 2006

The PBA hosts its fifth annual Pro Bono Conference in Hershey as part of its Annual Meeting, to emphasize PBA's commitment to meeting the civil legal aid needs of Pennsylvania's poor. Five hours of continuing legal education will be offered during the conference: three hours of substantive and two hours ethics.

8:00 a.m. – 9:00 a.m.

Registration & Continental Breakfast

9:00 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.

Pro Bono, Ethics & Technology: PALawHelp.org and PProbono.net (CLE 303)

This session will explore the reach and ethical implications of the new technology being used in Pennsylvania to promote civil legal aid and pro bono efforts, focusing on the two Web sites listed above and the creation of virtual law clinics using these tools.

Hank Leone, Technology Coordinator for Pennsylvania Legal Services (PLS), will begin with a Power Point presentation outlining briefly the PALawHelp.org and PProbono.net sites.

An ethics panel consisting of PLS Executive Director Sam Milkes, MidPenn Legal Services Director Rhodia Thomas, and Pepper Hamilton L.L.P.'s Director of Pro Bono Programs Joseph Sullivan will then lead conference participants through a series of hypothetical situations, looking at the ethical issues raised through technological enhancement of pro bono practice. PBA President-elect Kenneth Horoho will moderate this panel and coordinate the small group reports on each hypothetical.

Following the panel, Dauphin County Bar Association Public Interest Coordinator Sandy Ballard will be joined by the Office of General Counsel's David DeVries in modeling for the group the workings of the OGC's Virtual Law Clinic. Ballard and DeVries will share protocols used by the OGC project to handle substantive legal matters ranging from name changes to custody disputes, showing conference participants how they might set up their own virtual clinics to improve the delivery of legal services to pro se clients. Other models of virtual law clinics, such as projects started by the Government Lawyers Section to deal with Protection From Abuse cases and the Environmental Mineral and Natural Resource Law Section to deal with pro bono cases in its field, will be noted during this session.

12:00 noon – 2:00 p.m.

Luncheon

Featured Keynote Speaker: Christine Todd Whitman

The Pro Bono Conference will join the Women in the Profession at lunch and share in an informative keynote speech by Christine Todd Whitman and a wonderful networking opportunity. (See Women in the Profession Program on Page 7 for details about the speaker.) This will also provide time for conference participants to browse the exhibits and make bids on the Bar Foundation auction items.

2:00 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.

The Future of Pro Bono In Pennsylvania: Hot Button Topics in the Law (CLE 312)

The afternoon session will feature panel presentations, interactive exercises and speakers (both live and taped) focusing on two significant developments in the pro bono field, Civil Gideon and Disaster Relief. Legal Services to the Public Co-Vice Chair Derek Green, counsel to Philadelphia Councilwoman Marian Tasco, will moderate the afternoon program.

Civil Gideon will be the first topic covered as Green leads participants through a lesson from the 2006 PBA Law Day booklet on the right to counsel in civil legal aid matters. Pennsylvania Bar President Bill Carlucci and Pennsylvania Supreme Court Chief Justice Ralph Cappy then will be shown responding to a question about Civil Gideon from a high school student at last fall's Constitution Day program, which was filmed and aired by the Pennsylvania Cable Network. Susan Feathers, assistant dean and head of the Public Service Program at the University of Pennsylvania Law School, will follow with a presentation outlining the current status of the Civil Gideon movement, which was the focus of the 2006 spring Sparer Conference at Penn.

Allegheny County Bar Foundation Pro Bono Coordinator Lorrie Albert and Neighborhood Legal Services attorney Barbara Kern will then discuss their experiences working with Hurricane Katrina victims in a second topic area looking at the legal response to natural disasters. The connection to the earlier exploration of Civil Gideon flows from the popular belief that all of the legal needs of those displaced by disasters are provided for by the government. Albert and Kern have devoted hundreds of hours to direct legal representation of persons displaced to Pittsburgh by Katrina and their experience will open up a broader discussion of the obligation of the field to pro bono service and the special ethical issues raised by such disaster relief. Jim DeAngelo of McNees Wallace & Nurick L.L.C. will provide his unique perspective to this discussion.

5:00 p.m. – 7:00 p.m.

Law School Alumni Receptions

“If I Lead, Who Will Follow? Session 1 (CLE 306)

How do you rank yourself as a leader among your staff? Your peers? In the courtroom? At home? Do you lead with authority? Instill confidence in your clients? It's no secret. You only become a leader when others are willing to follow. Strong leadership skills can mean the difference between good lawyering and great lawyering. After all, what client does not want an assertive and confident attorney leading the case? Mastering leadership excellence requires people skills, and learning how to use these skills requires understanding and practice. Designed specifically for today's female lawyer, “If I Lead, Who Will Follow?” will enhance your understanding of the behaviors and motivations of your followers so that you can lead more effectively. You will study communication styles in the workplace, with a heavy focus on gender specific traits. Do you find yourself avoiding conflict? You will also learn how to have those fierce conversations with those who follow you.
