

PBA Pro Bono Award Presented to Philadelphia Bar Association Committee, December 2010

A PBA Pro Bono Award was presented to the Philadelphia Bar Association Senior Lawyers Professional and Public Service Committee. Members of this committee provided pro bono services to the public and the profession by conducting pre-trial conferences on behalf of the Court of Common Pleas of the First Judicial District on appeals from arbitration to eliminate a significant backlog. Members also assisted lawyers who were ill and families of deceased lawyers in dealing with open files, assisted in monitoring election law complaints in Philadelphia and helped crime victims and their families. In the photo, the award is presented by PBA Vice President Thomas G. Wilkinson Jr., right, to M. Melvin Shralow, chair, of the Philadelphia Bar Association Senior Lawyers Professional and Public Service Committee.

