

Mock Trial Academy students spend their days in university classrooms and lecture halls learning about various aspects of trial advocacy and implementing these techniques in small group sections. Students learn the principles and the finer points of each stage of a trial, including:

- opening statements
- direct examinations
- cross examinations
- closing arguments
- objections
- courtroom procedures
- trial strategy

The conference culminates with the students trying a case which was previously used in college Mock Trial competition.

Mock Trial Academy also fosters friendships and exposes students to the Chicagoland area with field trips and social events in and around downtown Chicago.
