PREFACE

The Pennsylvania Bar Association Quarterly is the scholarly publication of the Pennsylvania Bar Association. Begun in 1929, it has stood the test of time and has now reached its ninetieth anniversary. The Quarterly follows the trend begun by the American Law Journal (the first legal periodical published in Philadelphia in 1811) by offering the practicing bench and bar important articles on the developments in both Pennsylvania and general law, bar-related information, and general interest articles.

This index contains only articles found in the Quarterly. It does not include presidential reports, secretary reports, and committee reports that can be found from the early issues down to volume 43 (1973). After that year, committee reports generally do not appear in the issues with some exceptions on major publications.

The Quarterly, however, has never had a complete index of its articles compiled for publication. The Index to Legal Periodicals served as the major index to the Quarterly until 1980; its policy, however, was to index only those articles of five pages or more. Many articles were not indexed in the older volumes of ILP. Since 1980, the Quarterly has been completely indexed in the Current Law Index or more usefully in Legal Resource Index or LegalTrac, the online index for both periodical and newspaper serials. LRI is available as a database in Westlaw and Lexis as well.

The complete set is available online as part of the Bar Journal Library in HeinOnline, a subscription database, available in most government, county, bar, and private law libraries.

In this complete index, there are over 2,000 articles indexed by author, title, and subject. The author list is alphabetical. Within each author's entries, I have arranged the listing chronologically because many contributors published more than one article. For the subject index, I have indexed the articles under only one major category to keep the size of the index to a manageable size. To identify second authors (or more), I have added a multi-author list, providing the cross reference back to the first author. Book reviews, letters to the editor, and editorials have been included.

I wish to thank the following people for their encouragement and support in the preparation of this bibliography: Professor Robert Rains, Editor-in-Chief of the Quarterly, Marcy Mallory, former Communications Director and Jeffrey Gingerich, current Communications Director, Pennsylvania Bar Association. Any errors are, of course, my own.

NOTE ON VOLUME NUMBERS

I have added the year in the bibliographical citation to make it easier for the reader to determine the issue date.

Because the Quarterly published the first ten years only by issue number, I have added a zero (0) before the issue number to identify the issues previous to volume 11. Vol. 44 had five issues in order to begin volumes afterwards with a January date. The dates of publication for the Quarterly are as follows:
