The PBA Diversity Team invites you to join us on Thursday, June 25 from 4:00 p.m. – 5:30 p.m. for a conversation about racism in our country and profession. All PBA members are encouraged to participate in the first of a series of programs that will explore issues of diversity, inclusion and equity.

This Zoom webinar conversation will feature members of our profession who will share their personal perspectives regarding racism as a foundational pillar in the development of this nation and our legal profession.

The dialogue, facilitated by Juliana M. Mosley, Ph.D., a DEI professional, will create a narrative of personal voices from the panelists:
- Samantha Jallah, Esq., Geisinger Health Plan, Danville
- Wesley R. Payne IV, Esq., White and Williams LLP, Philadelphia
- Michael Reed, Esq., Pepper Hamilton, Philadelphia

This format serves as a vehicle used to help humanize the experiences of members from black and brown communities and may reveal major differences in worldviews or perspectives related to issues of race. All are invited to participate in difficult dialogue for the purposes of exploring your own perspectives and experiences with racism, and ways to move toward an anti-racist society and legal profession.

Register in advance for this webinar: https://zoom.us/webinar/register/WN_NzyY7cOoQWqXnW6IYdYrPrQ

After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the webinar.

Juliana M. Mosley has 20+ years of experience in education. Juliana currently serves as the chief diversity, inclusion & community relations officer at Chestnut Hill College in Philadelphia, and previously held several positions in higher education as a vice president for student affairs at Lincoln University, Edward Waters College, Marygrove College and Philander Smith College; the director of multicultural affairs at John Carroll University; the executive assistant to the president at Kentucky State University; and high school business teacher in Houston Independent School District. Juliana also serves as a consultant, having presented more than 60 times, to include a TEDx Talk, regional and national conferences, universities, non-profit organizations, government agencies and corporations. In these instances, she provided training and development workshops in leadership transition, strategic planning, student development, diversity and inclusion. Juliana earned a Ph.D. in educational leadership and M.A. in curriculum and teacher leadership from Miami University of Ohio, and B.S. in business education from Ball State University.