Pennsylvania Bar Foundation
Promoting education, justice and equal access for over 35 years.

Thank You for Your Support!
Welcome to the PA Bar Foundation’s 23rd Annual Foundation of Treasures Auction. The past few weeks has transformed our lives in ways that, only a few weeks ago, seemed unimaginable. As each of us faces this rapidly changing situation, many in our professions, our communities, and our commonwealth are struggling. Funds raised each year by the Foundation support programs that increase the public’s understanding of the law and promote equal access to justice. While these funds are vital to the Foundation, so is the wellbeing of our members.

With the cancellation of this year’s Annual Meeting, the Foundation has decided to continue with its annual auction via the online database we intended to launch this year. This allows those who can support the Foundation to engage in a fun activity in a socially distant manner. While we understand that many may not be able to participate, we ask those who can to “play along” and help ensure these worthy programs remain in these difficult times.

Online bidding for the 23rd Annual Foundation of Treasures Auction will open May 4 at 9:00 a.m.

The PA Bar Foundation funds program for Pennsylvania’s youth that help clarify the law and celebrate democracy and the freedoms and responsibilities it brings. We promote successful pro bono delivery modes and reward outstanding pro bono service through the annual presentation of the Louis J. Goffman Award. We also fund the work of the PBA Pro Bono Office, underwriting training programs, PBA pro bono awards, internships opportunities and CLE fees for lawyers participating in PBA pro bono training.

In partnership with the PA IOLTA Board and the supreme court of Pennsylvania, the Foundation administers and provides financial support to the statewide student Loan Repayment Assistance Program (“LRAP”). The LRAP helps IOLTA-funded civil legal services organizations attract and retain talented lawyers to careers in public service.

Additionally, we make a difference in the lives of law students with the Foundation’s James W. Stoudt Memorial Scholarship Program and Named Scholarship Program that helps members of the legal community establish their own scholarship program or donor-advised funds so they, too, can make a difference.

Since 1998, we have held this auction to raise funds to keep our program relevant and, in return, you have kindly given us your attention and support. Thank you! We hope we can count on you again this year to bid early, bid often and bid a lot!

Best regards,
Jeffrey M. Bower, Esq.
President, Pennsylvania Bar Foundation

Online Auction Procedures

The Foundation of Treasures Online Auction opens Mon., May 4 at 9 a.m. and closes on Fri., May 8 at 11 a.m. Sign-up to view the online auction by visiting this link. Once you have set up your profile, you will be able to view items, place bids, counterbid, and purchase your winning item(s). You will have the opportunity to view your bids and counter from anywhere, through your mobile device.

All starting bids will be in an amount equal to or greater than the specified minimum bid. Subsequent bids must be higher than the preceding bid by no less than the specified bid increment. For example, if the minimum bid is $100 and the bid increment is $10, the first bidder must bid a minimum of $100. The next bidder would need to bid at least $110 to gain the bidding advantage.

Once the winning bid and bidder have been identified, it is deemed binding. All sales are final and there will be no refunds or exchanges. The Pennsylvania Bar Foundation is not responsible for restrictions on, or for the condition of, any auction item.

PAYMENT IS EXPECTED AT THE CLOSE OF THE AUCTION. Payment for your winning bid(s) can be made in the online auction program. Checks can be mailed to the PA Bar Foundation headquarters at 100 South St., Harrisburg, PA 17101.

If payment is not received within 10 days from the close of the auction, the item will be forfeited, and the next highest bidder will be contacted and offered an opportunity to purchase the item. The difference between your successful bid and the estimated value of the auction item may be tax deductible. Please check with your tax advisor before claiming such a deduction.

The Pennsylvania Bar Foundation is proud to recognize the outstanding the 2019 James W. Stoudt Memorial Scholarship recipients, both of Temple University Beasley School of Law in Philadelphia. Each recipient received $3,000.

Amando Dominick is a second-year law student whose dream job is one that allows him to best serve others. A summer legal internship last year at the U.S. Attorney’s Office for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania solidified his years-long desire to be a prosecutor and help to keep people safe. This summer, he will be interning at the Philadelphia District Attorney’s Office and plans to continue his work there after he graduates from law school. At Beasley School of Law, Dominick is the Criminal Justice Section co-chair of the National Lawyers Guild, founder and chair of the First-Generation Committee and staff editor for the Political and Civil Rights Society. He planned and moderated an “Intro to Mass Incarceration” panel featuring formerly incarcerated individuals and a law professor specializing in the collateral effects of incarceration for his peers. Currently, Dominick is working with the Philadelphia Youth Sentencing and Reentry Project to develop a workshop to help formerly incarcerated persons get an education and employment.

Vitória Medeiros, a third-year law student was born in Brazil. Medeiros immigrated to the United States with her family when she was nine years old. Observing her own family’s experience with the gap in access to justice is what sparked her interest in a career in law. After she graduates law school, Medeiros intends to practice law with a special focus on low-wage immigrant workers in the Philadelphia region. At Beasley, she is the former president of the Latin American Law Student Association and a teaching assistant for the Integrated Trial Advocacy Program. She has held several externships, clerkships and internships at various organizations, including Pond Lehocky Stern Giordano Disability, Philadelphia Legal Assistance, U.S. Department of Labor, Office of the Solicitor Region III, Sheller Center for Social Justice and Justice at Work Inc. where she was a Peggy Browning Fellow.
In 2013, the PA Bar Foundation launched a Named Scholarship Program to provide individuals and organizations within and beyond the legal community the opportunity to establish an annual scholarship to benefit Pennsylvania residents attending any one of the nine accredited law schools within the state. An annual minimum commitment of $3,000 per year for five years is required to establish a fund. Named scholarship funds established by bar entities or bar members are eligible to receive an annual contribution from the Foundation, to the extent funds are available, to increase the impact of their award.

In 2013, then Foundation Vice-president Michael J. McDonald of the Scranton firm of McDonald and MacGregor, established the Joseph T. McDonald Memorial Scholarship Fund of the PA Bar Foundation in honor, and in memory, of his father. The Fund awards financial assistance on a competitive basis to a third-year law student enrolled full-time at Dickinson Law who is involved in the trial advocacy program and is interested in pursuing trial advocacy after graduation. The recent $3,000 scholarship was presented in 2019 to Nathalie Rojas.

Throughout law school, Rojas has taken courses and participated in activities to help prepare for her dream job of being a criminal defense attorney. She developed a course plan focusing on criminal procedure and trial and appellate advocacy, participated in and later coached moot court teams and sought internships that would enable her to experience different perspectives on trial advocacy.

At Penn State Dickinson School of Law, she is a member of the Dickinson Law Moot Court board and team of the Student Bar Association, a law school representative at James S. Bowman Inn of Court, and president and former vice president of Latinx Law Student Association. Rojas is also an academic success tutor for criminal procedure.

After graduation, Rojas plans on clerking at the Office of the Los Angeles County Public Defender where she intends on pursuing a full-time attorney position. In addition, she was a judicial extern for Judge John E. Jones III of the U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania; a law clerk at Kaye, McLane, Bednarski & Litt LLP; a legal intern for the Federal Public Defender’s Office, Middle District of Pennsylvania; and a legal intern for President Judge Richard A. Lewis of the Dauphin County Court of Common Pleas.

Rojas received a B.A. in psychology from La Sierra University in 2016.
The goal of the Pennsylvania Bar Foundation – PA IOLTA Loan Repayment Assistance Program ("LRAP") is to help attorneys employed at IOLTA-funded legal services organizations across the state better manage their undergraduate and law school student loan debt so they can afford to remain in public service. It is also to help IOLTA-funded legal aid organizations recruit and retain the best and the brightest attorneys for service in the public good.

The program provides one-year loans, payable to qualified attorneys quarterly, with a 12-month employment requirement at qualifying organizations. The loans must be used to repay loans incurred for undergraduate and law school education costs and bar exam study and will be forgiven at the end of each year if the eligibility requirements have been met.

The Foundation administers one loan assistance cycle each year beginning in September. The amount of loan assistance provided to each applicant depends on the funding available and the number of qualifying attorney applicants.

To date, the loan repayment assistance program has awarded loans valued in excess of $3.3 million to over 300 attorneys employed by IOLTA-funded civil legal services organizations located across Pennsylvania.
